A Strange Incident of the Carnival.

Roman Letter to the London Standard. In the procession was a bouquet of such colossal proportions that nine children, whose heads, encased in monstrous representations of melons, lemons, oranges, and the like, rose above the surface of the flowers, were concealed within the recesses of it. The entire machine was carried on the shoulders of four stout fellows, dressed like Swiss peasants—opers peasants; and very hard work must their task have been. A singular incident occurred in the midst of the maddening of the revel. In the Via Nazionale is the new American church, with its lofty and pretty tower and peal of bells. And while the surging crowd which filled the vast street were shouting, laughing, and flinging their flowers a qui mieux mieux, the American bells began to ring out their call to afternoon service—uselessly, for assuredly few or no worshipers could have made their way to the church. But the effect produced on the crowd was characteristic. The first sounds were greeted with an enormous shout of laughter; then the people began to hiss. The bells were promptly silenced.

Fishes and Feminine Beauty.

From Mr. Faraday's Essay on "The Mind of Fishes."

It was the blennies who manifested that appreciation of feminine beauty to which I have alluded. They were generally indifferent to the presence of spectators. On the occasion in question I had the honor of conducting a number of young ladies, pupils from one of our principal schools, round the exhibition. It is necessary to say that the young ladies were merging into womanhood and were exceedingly good looking. No sooner had we arrived before the blenny tank than one of the fish, happening to turn his head, caught sight of the unusual spectacle, and instantly rushed to the front. Other blennies, attracted by his sudden movement, turned round and followed, and speedily every blenny in the tank (there were some hundreds in all) was pressing his nose against the glass, and a row of gleaming eyes was seen, expressing such intense and unmistakable admiration and amazement that some of my fair companions actually blushed.

Is the Cat.

Mt. Vernon Correspondent Springfield Republican.

It is touching to know that after Washington's death his widow shut herself up in a room just above his, because it had a window that looks directly upon his tomb—the old one of course—and she seldom left it until her death a year and a half after. She had a pet cat, and for its accommodation had a hole cut in the door. Once a guide spoke of this, and to point a moral in walked a big gray cat—"and there's the cat now," said somebody in all good faith. "Yes, just seventy-eight years old," said the guide, without a smile, and they bolted it whole. In this room is one original piece of furniture, an old wash-stand used by Mrs. Washington. But even the really old furniture wears a dreadfully new look—it is so varnished and rubbed up.

Davidson, the jeweler, is a good one.

TUESDAY..... MARCH 9, 1860

AN INCORRECT REPORT.

The following card appeared last evening in the Virginia Chronicle. We deem it entirely unnecessary to add anything to it, as the citizens of Reno were well aware of the facts before. We were by no means inclined to let any one in the state misunderstand the matter. We have never made any attempt to conceal any part of our business which concerned the public, and if the GAZETTE, or any part of it, ever becomes the property of others, we will not run it for an hour as our own. The policy and attitude of the paper has not been suited all of our friends, and there may have been times when a different course would have been advisable, but right or wrong, we have done exactly what we were compelled to do by the light we had. The card is as follows.

EDITOR EVENING CHRONICLE—Sir: I desire with your permission to contradict a report that is being circulated in Virginia City to the effect that the Reno Evening GAZETTE is owned, in whole or in part, by the Central Pacific Railroad Company. I bought the paper because I wanted to build up a business and have a home, without being obliged to travel, and I have conducted the paper with that object steadily in view. Since I have owned it no company or corporation has been interested in its success or failure to the extent of one dollar, nor have they contributed or dictated a line in its editorial columns, or attempted to control its policy in the slightest degree. I can convince anyone who has the curiosity or interest to call upon me of the truth of this statement in twenty minutes. Respectfully,

R. L. FULTON,
Proprietor GAZETTE.

THE PLACE FOR THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The Democratic State Central Committee will meet on the 23rd instant, and will issue a call for a State Convention. At the instance of leading Democrats of Washoe county, we suggest that the Convention be held in Reno. The place is a railroad center, has first-class and ample hotel accommodations good public halls, excellent whiskey, and receives the Virginia Evening Chronicle three hours after publication. These are advantages which should influence the Committee.

We are authorized to state that should the Democratic Convention be held in Reno, the Nevada Theatre will be at its disposal, free of charge, and also commodious committee rooms in the same building. The Nevada Theatre is one of the best public halls in the state.

There are many good Democrats in Reno, and should the Convention be held here, delegates will receive every attention. No extortion will be practiced by hotel proprietors.

IMPORTANT, IF TRUE.

This morning's Enterprise, received as the GAZETTE goes to press, gives credit to a report that a sale of the V. & T. railroad to the C. P. is being negotiated.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

U. S. troops are being concentrated at San Francisco, and the armories are kept under strong guard. The arms of one regiment have been placed in the old City Hall for safe keeping. It is believed that the Chinese in the city have represented to the government that they were in danger from the Workingmen, and that, in consequence, these precautions have been taken, and preparations made to quell a riot. But the Call, with all its caution, apprehends no danger, so that no bloodshed need be expected.

The Ute chieftains at Washington have signed a treaty with the Government. They cede their reservation in Colorado to the United States, one quarter section (160 acres) of agricultural land and a like quantity of grazing land to each head of a family, and one-half of this quantity to each single person, being set apart for the settlement of the Indians. This degrades the Indian nearly to the level of the common white man, to whom the government gives the right to take up 160 acres of public land.

The hints that have been whispered about the Democratic camp in relation to Tilden's physical incapacity are now explained. Since the last Presidential election, Samuel's knuckles have been augmented by bony accretions, so that his fingers are very stiff. It is feared that this would interfere with the writing of cipher dispatches to an extent that might allow the present

"Fraudulent Administration" to be succeeded by one of like political complexion.

A news dispatch reads: "Thomas Boyd, twenty-three years of age, yesterday accomplished the feat of jumping from the bridge which spans the Ohio at Louisville into the falls below, a distance of one hundred feet." This is unsatisfactory. It is no fest to jump off a bridge. Anybody can do that. The subsequent proceedings of Boyd are what we want to learn.

Should the three hundred thousand starving Irish all die before the New York Herald collects a dollar for each of them, and remits, the money might be used to defray their funeral expenses. Perhaps Bennett has a Herald Grand National Wake in view.

An Ogden girl gave her lover an embroidered motto, bearing the words "God is Love." He hung it tenderly upon the wall at the foot of his bed, and beneath it another, of his own handwork, inscribed "And Don't You Forget It."

St. Petersburg is getting to be a lively place to live in. Dynamite explosions are of frequent occurrence, and a policeman is shot by Nihilists every day or two. Five thousand arrests have been made since the Winter Palace explosion.

Captain T. G. Taylor, who was spoken of as the probable successor of Sutro in the superintendence of the Sutro Tunnel, returned to the Comstock yesterday. So far as he knew, no Superintendent had been appointed in Sutro's place.

The Democratic State Central Committee will meet in Virginia City at 11 A. M. on March 23d. A Convention will be called, to elect six delegates to the National Convention, to be held at Cincinnati June 22.

A wholesale dry goods establishment at St. Paul, Minn., was consumed by fire on Sunday, with most of its contents. The building cost $90,000 and was filled with goods to the value of $850,000.

Hoole & Elliott, late co-owners of the Bodie News, have dissolved partnership. S. F. Hoole is now sole proprietor.

Major Reno has not yet availed himself of the official permission to resign.

AN ACT OF SINGULAR BENEVOLENCE.

A tender-hearted stranger of well-to-do exterior, passing by the broad stone steps of Warsaw Cathedral, perceived a poorly dressed woman crouched at their feet, weeping loudly and wringing her hands in deep tribulation. Touched by her evident distress, he stopped and asked what was the matter. "Kind, gracious Sir" replied the sobbing woman, I am the most unfortunate creature in the world. I want to get my baby christened, but the Pope demands two roubles, and I have not a single copeck." "Is that all?" observed the pitiful stranger; "take this five-ruble note, go straight to the Pope, pay him his christening fee, and bring me out the three roubles change." With joyful promptitude the recipient of his bounty, entered the church, whence she presently emerged with three silver roubles, which she handed over to her benefactor, expressing her heart-felt gratitude for his timely succor, and her surprise at his apparently disinterested kindness. "My good woman," answered the philanthropist, with a beaming smile, "your astonishment is uncalled for. You see, I am one of those people who cannot bear to contemplate the unhappiness of their fellow creatures. I must always see joyous faces around me. Besides everybody concerned in this transaction is profited by it. The Pope has got his fee, your child will be christened, your mind is at ease, and I have received three good silver roubles from a benevolent action and—a bad five-ruble note!"

Extension of the Central Pacific Railway System.

NEW YORK, March 8th.—A Times Louisville, Ky., special says: The fact has leaked out here that the Louisville & St. Louis Air Line has been purchased by C. P. Huntington & Co., who will use it in conjunction with the great Central Pacific system. This air line, which extends from Louisville to St. Louis, was to be built partly by the aid of county subscriptions, as well as by the capital of its projectors. The road will, when completed, traverse the richest part of Indiana and Illinois, connecting at St. Louis with the Huntington Central Pacific interests, and at Louisville with the Louisville and Cincinnati Railroad, at whose terminal point, Mt. Sterling, it will join the Chesapeake and Ohio, thus giving the Central Pacific people an immense line of road, extending from the Pacific to the Atlantic Ocean. Laborers are now hard at work grading the track of the Chesapeake and Ohio from Huntington to Mt. Sterling, a distance of eighty miles. This extension will be finished by next fall.

A Terrible Explosion.

An explosion in the artillery barracks at Santiago, Chile, killed twenty-one persons and destroyed a portion of the buildings used for the manufacture of shells, etc. Several persons are missing.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

Wood $18 per cord in Bodie. Bodie has a grand masquerade ball to-morrow night.

The young wheat near Haywards is five inches in length.

One dollar is paid in Wyoming for the right forepaw of a wolf.

Alturas Republicans favor Grant, with Blaine for second choice.

Lux & Miller have put 187 head of Angora on their Kern county farm.

The next Oregon State Fair will be held at Salem, commencing July 1, and lasting one week.

A $100,000 mortgage on lands belonging to the stage firm of Claggan & Parker has been filed for record at Carson.

A Englishman named Stanton is in the Smallpox hospital at San Francisco, afflicted with leprosy contracted in India.

Adin is to have a church, which shall be owned and built by the public, and be free to ministers of all denominations.

In Amador county a turke, caught under a falling building, sustained life for over two months, but died soon after being released.

The artesian well at the Battle Mountain round house throws a stream six or seven feet high and from a distance looks like a fountain.

The ladies of Battle Mountain propose to get up a Leap Year party on the 17th for the purpose of purchasing an organ for the lyceum.

Ah Lem, the Chinaman who was shot Friday night at San Rafael while standing in a China cigar store in Chinatown, died Saturday afternoon.

Charles W. Lawrence, formerly Mayor of Virginia, attempted suicide by shooting himself in the mouth in that city yesterday. The wound may prove fatal.

A Bodie saddler has spent 23 days over a saddle, and has put $75 worth of silver upon it. The saddle is valued at $250, and will probably be raffled off.

An engine and eighteen coal cars were wrecked on Sunday by the giving way of a trestle at Little Lake, W. T. A man named Stewart, from Nanaimo, was killed and several others injured.

About four hundred Chinamen are grading above the Ciénega, Arizona. Their camp looks like a tented army. Several deep grades have already been cut.

John Angel, a solid miner just from Montana, gives it as his opinion that no less than five thousand men will arrive in that country during the next two months.

The bodies of Wm. King and Nephi Asterholdt, who were killed by a snow-slide at Logan, Utah, have been recovered. They were found in snow 12 feet deep.

Wm. H. Workman of Los Angeles has in the orchard attached to his house orange trees, three years from the bud, which are fairly groaning under their load of fruit.

The Weston-O'Leary walking-match opened in San Francisco at 1 o'clock yesterday morning. There was a small attendance at the start. Both men are in excellent condition and each is confident of winning.

Miners' wages in Utah runs from $2.50 to $3.50 per day. A small number of Mormons work in the mines. The church discourages it. Laborers on the surface, at mills, furnaces, etc., receive from $1.50 to $1.75 per day.

The operators of the Atchinson, Topeka and Santa Fe road have been given a raise of wages amounting to almost 20 per cent. in advance of the old pay roll. Passenger conductors receive $100 per month; baggage-man, acting as telegraph operator, receives $60.

The Amador Times says: On arriving at Muletown, about three miles from Ione, which at one time, during the early days of gold mining, used to poll 600 and 700 votes, we saw nothing but two little old dilapidated cabins, and a few stone chimneys to mark the site of that once flourishing and prosperous mining camp.

HUMAN BONES IN SOLID ROCK.

From the New York Tribune.

Here are bones for geologists to pick. St. Louis is having a new sewer made through solid lime-stone rock, twelve feet below the street level. Near the substratum of the rock the workmen have come upon two human feet, firmly planted in the rock. The calf of the left leg can be traced, but the other foot possesses only a part of the ankle. They occupy natural positions, as if the creature that owned them had been standing erect in the mud that hardened into limestone. No traces of the body are visible.

Persons who have seen the fossils do not doubt that they are immediately related to some departed human being. Hardly more credible or less incredible is the statement that workmen boring a well, near Athens, Ga., have found a perfect iron wedge, such as rail-splitters used, in the middle of a solid blue granite rock, forty-six feet under ground.

There is many a scientist who will wish he had been one of the workmen. Like the frogs that are said sometimes to jump from the centre of a rent rock, the wedge was in a perfect state of preservation.

AN INTOLERANT YOUNG MAN.

At Breckinridge, Colorado, February 27th, Charles Leonard, 22 years old, was shot dead by Harvey Cole. A party of young men were together at the time, and it seems that Cole advanced some opinions that did not meet with Leonard's approbation, and the latter so informed him. A discussion ensued for a minute or two, when, to the surprise of all, Cole drew a gun, and leveling it at the heart of Leonard, deliberately fired, killing him instantly. A slight attempt was made to escape, but the murderer was overpowered by his companions, who at once placed him in custody.

SUNDAY EVENING IN LEADVILLE.

The inconvenience of using the same building for a theatre and a church has been proved in Leadville.

On Sunday the Opera House is the place of worship of St. George's Episcopal Congregation. And to satisfy the advanced ideas of Leadville a sacred concert was given in the evening, not of the New York kind, with an overture to begin and an opera bouffe to end with, but a solid orthodox sermon by way of introduction, and such music as Abt's "Evening Hymns," and the Doxology. Nevertheless, the congregation overflowed the dramatic dressing-rooms, trod the properties under foot, and put histronic art out of countenance for the ensuing week.

MURDERED, THEN THROWN IN THE RIVER.

The body of a man, completely stripped, with a bullet hole through his head and marks of severe blows on his forehead, was found in the Touchet river, Washington Ter., a few miles from Walla Walla, on March 18. His body is now on view for identification.

It was evidently stripped in order to destroy his identity. He is supposed to be a cattle man.

A THOUGHTFUL AND TIMELY SUGGESTION.

From the Susanville Advocate.

An excellent suggestion has been made, which is that when there is a fire, the church or court house bells should be rung. A fire occurs and only those in the immediate neighborhood know it, while if the bell was rung, the alarm would be general, and consequently there would be more persons to render assistance.

JUTTINGS.

Parting salute of the storekeeper: "buy buy."

There is an assessment of 5 cents on Day.

Sierra Nevada has levied another assessment.

The employees of the V. & T. road have been gladdened by a visit from the paymaster.

Merrifeld sold his eighty head of cattle yesterday to San Francisco parties, and they were shipped this morning.

The Juvenile "Old Folks" concerts will be given at the theatre next Monday and Tuesday evenings. Every preparation is being made to make them a success.

The Haslund children were doing well at last accounts. No new cases of diphtheria are reported. Mrs. Elliott's children did not have the disease, and they are both running about as usual.

Mrs. Alt's dancing class in Kimball's hall was the attraction last evening, and was well attended. Mr. White, the caller, struck for more pay, and Mrs. Alt did the calling herself. The hours have been extended. Dancing is now continued until 11 o'clock.

It is reported that one reason why the trout have not come up to Reno is the difficulty they experience in swimming through three dams which the Indians have constructed between this place and Wadsworth. They (the Indians and the dams) should be blown up.

Oakland in Flames.

Word reached Reno this noon by the delayed lightning train that a large section of the business portion of Oakland was being consumed by a raging fire at a late hour last night.

As telegraphic communication with San Francisco has been interrupted since last evening, no particulars have been received.

The Two Bulldogs.

The trial of the two men who raided Hartley's restaurant was concluded in the Justice's court this morning. Edward Dwyer, charged with theft, was discharged. Thos. Hartley was convicted of drawing and exhibiting in a threatening manner a deadly weapon. He will be sentenced at six o'clock this evening.

Personal.

M. C. Lake is in San Francisco. He will be absent several weeks.

The wife of Dr. Dawson leaves on the overland train for the east tomorrow morning. She will be absent several months.

DIPHTHERIA.

Its Nature and Symptoms—Different Methods of Treatment—Importance Of Ventilation and Cleanliness.

In view of the fact that diphtheria has made its appearance in our city, we have determined to make through the medium of your journal a few observations concerning the symptoms, cause, and means of prevention of this much dreaded scourge. The primary seat of the disease is usually in the tonsils and palate or the parts contiguous to these structures, and first manifests itself in irregular patches, varying in color from white to grey. This membrane consists of effused lymph, and may become so abundant as to seriously obstruct respiration. Associated with this condition, there are symptoms of a general character, such as fever, great muscular weakness, nervousness, and in some cases delirium.

That the disease is contagious there can be but little doubt, yet this is disputed by eminent authorities. The period of incubation is probably from three to four days. Recurrence in the same individual is not the rule, and recurrent cases are not so severe as the original attack. It may be concluded, beyond a doubt, that certain infectious diseases are induced in the system by a morbid agent which is propagated in and given off from the bodies of the sick, and which is capable when received into a healthy body of producing in that body a similar disease. This is the germ-theory of disease, and diphtheria may be classed with those diseases. Now, have we any means of destroying these germs?

Of course it is not to be presumed that we have; otherwise we should be masters of the situation, and diphtheria would be shorn of its terrors. But that sulphur does possess this property, to a very considerable extent, we can not doubt, and we do not hesitate to recommend it as a valuable agent for this purpose. Though it may not be a specific, it yet possesses sufficient value to be worthy of a trial.

There are various ways in which sulphur may be used: closing the house and burning it so as to thoroughly fumigate the rooms, and giving it internally with syrup in quantities sufficient to act as a mild laxative; and, better than either, in the form of sulphurous acid properly diluted, either internally or by spraying the throat.

In addition to the means indicated, great care must be used to preserve proper ventilation of our houses, removing all decaying vegetable or animal matters, and thoroughly renovating and cleansing all sinks, drains and cess-pools. Too much stress cannot be laid on the importance of maintaining perfect cleanliness of the person, and to this end frequent bathing is necessary. The diet should be regulated so as to maintain a healthy condition of the secretions.

By observing the rules indicated, together with such hygienic and sanitary means as good sense will dictate, we believe that many lives may be saved.

Reno, March 8th, 1880.

Satisfaction After 28 Years.

There is a little Indian blood in Plummer, the elocutionist, and he says that it shows in his cheek bones and his recollection of an injury. Once, when he was a mere boy, in his native town of Maine, a man threw a shovelful of salt in his face. The boy swore vengeance on the coward. Twenty-eight years afterwards, he was traveling through the state, having acquired a reputation, when the salt-shoveler came to him and said:

"Weren't you born in the town of —? Seem to me I remember you as a boy that used to run about the wharves there."

"Yes," says Plummer, "I was. And seems to me I remember you as a man who shoveled salt there. Take that, d—n you."

When the Professor left the spot, there were black and blue rings around the salt-shoveler's eyes.

Overland Passengers.

The following is the list of the overland passengers to pass through Reno this evening on the Pacific express:

Gilson Homans and wife, London, England; ex-Governor Milton S. Latham, Mrs. William S. Stewart, nurse and child, J. M. McCracken, San Francisco; Friend P. Fitts and wife, Miss R. C. Mack, Miss Blina Yale, Miss May Yale, Adrian Potter and wife, New York; H. B. Tallant, wife and son, Miss Sarah J. Baker, Boston; J. S. Dixon, E. S. Talbot and wife, F. R. Wells, Chicago; B. Chase, A. Chase, California; P. Pierce; Jr., New Zealand; L. W. Smith, Ashabula, Ohio.

One of Plummer's Sharp Retorts.

Those who are personally acquainted with Prof. Plummer, and know how much he dislikes "Shop Talk" in private circles, will appreciate the following:

Plummer was quietly conversing with several gentlemen, when a disciple of Dunbray tapped him on the shoulder, and in a patronizing tone said: "I beg pardon, but aren't you the gentleman who makes faces?"

Plummer took a deliberate survey of his dandyship, and quietly said: "Pardon me, but isn't it the man that makes brains you're looking for?"

Who Knows Him.

The following letter was received here today from Austin, Nevada: "Would you please make inquiries if a young man named Martin Ryan, who was suffering with fever and ague, is still in Reno, and if so would you be so kind as to tell him to write home immediately to his father and he will send him money to come home. Tell him he will be welcomed home by his father and mother. Yours respectfully, MARTIN RYAN. Dated, March 1st, 1880.—I'm

The Pullman Family's Car.

Mrs. George M. Pullman, wife of the inventor of sleeping cars, with two children and several Chicago ladies arrived here last night in a special car attached to the Pacific express train. The party remained in Reno until morning, and then went west with the Reno and San Francisco passenger train. The car was a model of comfort and elegance. It was parlor, sleeping and hotel car in one. The windows were of the finest plate glass, and were fully three feet in width. The car was fitted with every convenience that ingenuity could devise, and decorated throughout in the most artistic manner. Bouquets of fresh flowers were displayed in vases upon the tables. Pullman evidently believes in making his family comfortable when they travel.

Delayed Trains.

The west-bound overland express train was six hours late last night, owing to some delay on the Union Pacific. It arrived here at 2 A. M., and left at 2:20. The east-bound express train went through on time, while the immigrant train was late, arriving here at 8 o'clock this morning. The Reno and San Francisco passenger (lightning) was delayed about five hours, stopping at Truckee for breakfast this morning and reaching Reno at noon to-day. The cause of the detention of the east-bound trains was a storm on the mountains. The wires west of Blue Canyon were all down at 10 o'clock last evening, and remained inoperative through the night and until a late hour to-day.

Amusement To-Night.

There should be plenty of fun at Prof. Plummer's entertainment to-night. His humorous recitations seldom fail to throw an audience into convulsions of laughter. To hear him deliver the sermon from the text of "Old Mother Hubbard" is alone worth the price of admission, which, by the way, is only four bits. The award of a volume of poems to the homeliest man in the audience should make considerable entertainment. Go to hear the Professor. No one ever regretted buying a ticket to one of his entertainments.

The Reno Foundry.

The Reno Foundry is getting all the work that the establishment with its present facilities can turn out. Mr. Fournier says that he can make castings so much cheaper than they can be imported from San Francisco, that the local trade is bound to come to him. He is turning out stove castings for thirty cents that cost sixty in the city. He is getting ahead steadily all the time. He deserves success if ever any business man did, for a more hard-working, persevering or enterprising man never engaged in business here.

Look Out for Them.

Bogus $6 pieces are being circulated in Sacramento. The coin has the right sound, is exact in weight and size, very finely executed, gold plated, of the dates 1844, 1847 and 1875. These pieces, the Record-Union says, are the product of a company which excutes its work in ships at sea, originally on the Spanish coast. The composition of the piece is an alloy of platinum and silver, heavily gilded. French and English coin is also imitated by the same parties.

A Notice From the W. T. U.

Reposed, that whereas it has come to our notice that parties are advertising and offering for sale tickets for a Masquerade Ball, purporting to be under the auspices of the Women's Temperance Union:

Resolved, that as such persons are acting without authority or consent of the W. T. U., that we will not be responsible for any bills that may be contracted by the parties managing teams.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of thirty and sixty who are troubled with too frequent urination, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the ordinary deposits aropy, yellowish, or white, small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milk-like hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. These are men who do not distinctly remember the time of their weakness, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the general system of organs.
